22 DOGS ATTACK COLMA WOMAN

Pets Turn On Colma's "Dog Lady"

Man's best friend did an abrupt about face on a Colma woman Tuesday as she was attacked, and viciously bit by 22 of her "pets."

Mrs. Marguerite Johnson, known around Colma and Daly City as the "Dog Lady," was attacked by 22 dogs in her shack on Junipero Serra near the Chinese Cemetery Tuesday morning.

County poundmaster Francis Wyman, who shot the majority of the dogs, reported that Mrs. Johnson was attacked when she attempted to separate them from fighting. They turned on her, severly chewing her about the hands, arms and face. She was rushed to Junipero Serra Hospital for treatment, and later transferred to Community Hospital.

Mrs. Johansen, 45, has been collecting "stray" dogs for many years. Recently she was ordered out of one shack like home near the Chinese Cemetery, and Sunday moved to an old shed on Junipero Serra Boulevard.

Police speculate that the dogs, of every breed and size, attacked Mrs. Johansen from anger and starvation.

The 22 dogs were destroyed by the county poundmaster Tuesday afternoon.

FIRE CONFUSED WITH AIR RAID WARNING

A little too much energy on the part of a Daly City policeman aroused the citizens of Colma to the belief that there was an air raid Tuesday night.

Officer Charles Munday, in the Daly City police headquarters, pulled a switch to send Colma firemen out to fight a fire in the Skyline dumps. It takes only one pull to notify the firemen, but Munday made sure by pulling several times.

Each pull counted 10 siren wails, however, and confusion reigned in Colma.

Postal Notes Sales To End

Postmaster John F. Fixa today announced that Postal Notes will be removed from sale at all post offices at the close of business on March 31, 1951.

This action is taken so that a modernized and streamlined postal money order system may be inaugurated on July 1, 1951. The new postal money order will be printed on cards and will be processed by use of the latest electrical sorting and tabulating procedures. The modernized money order will supersede the present paper money order as well as the postal note.

CITY NAMED IN $34,620 SUIT

Family Claims Money Due For Fire-Explosion

A $34,620 suit for damages received in an explosion and house fire on May 31 was filed by a Daly City family this week in the superior court at Redwood City.

The complaint was filed by Mr. and Mrs. Gertrude Ferretti, and Mrs. Ferretti's son, George Grennell.

The suit is against the City of Daly City, Pacific Gas and Electric Co., the Fay Improvement Co., and the latter's supervisor, Robert Farrish.

The Ferrettis and Grennell claim that that the May 31, 1951, explosion riped the house, knocked out Mrs. Ferretti, and resulted in a fire which razed the $10,000 home and destroyed $19,988 worth of furnishings and equipment. Included in the damage was a large supply of liquor which Ferretti, a San Francisco tavern operator, stored in his home.

The plaintiffs charged that the city streets in the area were in a dangerous and defective condition. They claimed that a bulldozer operated by the Fay Improvement Co. in repairing the streets cut a PG&E gas line. Leaking gas filled the garage, and was set off by the pilot light of the water heater, they said.

County Budget

Supervisors Ask For 14% Increase

The San Mateo County Board of Supervisors announced Wednesday that the county's department heads have asked for a 14 per cent increase in the county budget for the coming fiscal year beginning July 1.

The department heads have asked for $13,530,591.15 or $1,676,$711.81 more than they were allowed for the current fiscal year.

The increase in the county budget is not the only factor in raising the county tax rate for the coming year. County Manager E. Robert Stallings estimated that there is about $60,000 still to be added after the pay scales are set for new jobs.

If allowed, the new budget allotments could mean an increase in the tax rate as much as 60 per cent. However, it is not likely that it will be that high.

The present rate is $1,992 per $100 of valuation.

Two factors would cause a 60 per cent increas: (1) the complete depletion of all of this year's funds and (2) no rise in the total value of the assessed property.

The construction of new homes and busineses, however, should counterbalance the additional spending by raising the county's assessable property.

The largest item increase in the budget lies in the salaries. Besides an increase of 130 new positions, there is a blanket six per cent increase in salaries.

Where A Boy Bit Off More Than He Could . . .

A lad who was on his way to brushing his teeth Tuesday morning, ended up in Junipero Serra Hospital before the brush touched his teeth.

He is 3-year-old Lawrence Windham who bit off the end of a glass tooth brush container. A stomach pump, plus a few minutes at the hospital, and Lawrence was home at 299 Crocker Avenue minus the portion of the container.

Council Takes Two Decisive Moves Monday

No Objections Sounded To Rent Move; Hearing Set For Controversial Case

Rent controls, barring immediate federal action, will be lifted in Daly City within the next month.

The rent ceilings for this area were abolished by resolution of the city council at their regular meeting Monday night. Not one voice was heard in protest, although the effect of the act is expected to generally increase rents throughout the Daly City area.

Council members were unanimous in their vote that "controls are no longer necessary."

However, landlords were warned they could take no action on rents until the resolution has been approved by Federal Housing Expediter Ty Woods. This approval is expected early next month.

In abolishing rent controls, Daly City has taken the lead of the majority of San Mateo County cities where controls have been lifted for several months.

Disputed Land

Another important move by the council Monday night was the abandonment of a plan to lay a street over the disputed 60 foot strip of land claimed both by the Ocean Shore Railroad and Henry Doelger. However, the council has not given up its fight to cross the strip, and passed a series of measures which would extend South Gate and South Mayfair across the land. This would, in effect, give Doelger an opportunity tow break the "bellyband" which now divides Westlake and makes it necessary for him to go completely around the strip to get to the western portion of the tract.

Hearing Set

A hearing has been set for April 23 at 8 o'clock to hear any protests against the city cutting the strip. Gardner Johnson, lawyer for the Ocean Shore Railroad, indicated this week that he would be present to fight the measure.

Meanwhile, the Ocean Shore Railroad $375,000 damage suit against Doelger has bogged down in the courts. The Railroad has requested the money for damages whether the strip actually belongs to Doelger or the Railroad there can be no decision on the damage case.

More Business

Other business before the council Monday night was:

1. Commending Sgt. Roland Petrocchi for completion of an educational course, on his own time, which now qualifies him as a police trainer and teacher.
2. Awarding a $2,394 contract to the Cunningham Co. for paving Edgewood Park. Two other bids were submitted, both of which were almost double the Cunningham bid.
3. The vacation of 8 feet of land on the west side of Bellevue avenue was approved by Concordia residents after the builder on that

Library Extension

New Children's Room Now Open . .

by Lorraine de Fanti
Librarian (jg)

The children's room of the Daly City Public Library is open now after eight days of repairs and improvements.

The room now has aditional shelf and floor space which will alleviate, at least for the present time, the overcrowded conditions in the room. Many of the juvenile books which have had to be kept in storage due to the inadequacies of shelving will once again be returned to their rightful place in the room.

Although the repairs done at this time are only of a stop gap nature, they will serve the immediate need, and of necessity meet the situation until such time when more adequate and long range improvements and changes will provide for the ever-growing needs of the library.

The library staff would like at this time to thank those citizens, who worked either individually or collectively, who were instrumental in arousing interest in and action for the badly needed repairs.

Particular thanks to THE RECORD for the publicity given the project.

On behalf of all the community minded citizens we sincerely thank those councilmen and city officials who contributed in any way towards the improvements which have finally been realized in the children's room.

Cancer Drive Month Proclaimed

Last year some 210,000 families lost a father, a mother, or a child to cancer. Of these more than 100,000 were in the prime of life, between the ages of 30 and 65. They were stricken when their families, their work and their communities needed them most.

Those who have lost a dear one, know cancer as a terrible threat. They know that the disease reaches beyond the patient to family and loved ones all of whom must share a serious burden.

Happily, there is a brighter side. Physicians can now cure half of those who develop cancer if the disease is diagnosed early and treated prompty. Today, however, only about one in four, who have the disease, are being saved.

We as individuals have a great responsibility; we can strike back at cancer through spreading life-saving facts and through contributing to the Cancer Crusade. Lives will be saved — in our country, our state, our community, and perhaps in our own families.

Therefore, I, Paul Green, Mayor of Daly City, take great pleasure in proclaiming April as Cancer Control Month. I call on all citizens to join in the Cancer Crusade of the American Cancer Society. I heartily subscribe to the Crusade's theme: Guard Your Family. Strike Back. Give to Conquer Cancer.

Assembly Seats

County May Get Second District

MARCH 29. (CNS)—Riding over the bitter protests of Assemblyman Thomas A. Maloney and George D. Collins, Jr., San Francisco, the assembly Tuesday passed and sent to the senate the Waters Reapportionment bill cutting San Francisco's assembly districts to six and increasing those of San Mateo county to two.

Maloney and Collins argued that despite a huge increase in population San Francisco districts had been cut to seven in 1941 and now was reduced to six while San Mateo county with a lesser gain in residents was being given a new seat in the assembly.

The assembly first voted down an amendment which would have cut back the San Mateo seat to one and left San Francisco with seven seats.

The amendment was one of several introduced prior to passage of the bill which was drafted after hearings were conducted in various parts of the state on reapportionment by members of the assembly committee on reapportionment headed by Assemblyman Laughlin Waters, Los Angeles.

Passage of the bill creating the new districts followed bitter debate in which Democrats charged the constitution, which provides that reapportionment be on a population basis, was being violated and Republicans were favoring their own party at the expense of Democrats.

The Congressional Reapportionment bill is scheduled for debate early today.

Employment Gain Noted For Year

MARCH 29. (CNS)—A net gain of 300,000 in employment was recorded in March for the past twelve months, James G. Bryant, director of the Department of Employment, announced today.

Bryant said renewed national defense activity has had a direct bearing on employment gains in recent months, but much of the improvement, he stated, is neither directly nor indirectly associated with defense expansion.

Employment at mid-February was 4,301,000 compared with 3,999,000 at the corresponding time in 1950.

FIRST AID CLASS OPENS THIS TUESDAY

A beginners Red Cross first aid course will open this Tuesday, April 3, at 188 Santa Barbara.

At the same meeting, nominations for delegates to the Eagles State Convention in Santa Barbara, Calif., on June 22, 23, and 24, will be made. Balloting on the names of the delegates nominated will take place at the regular meeting of the Aerie on April 12.

CAP AND GOWN PRAISED

To whom it may concern:

I would like to compliment the Elementary School Board on the action they took on the cap and gowns.

Caps and gowns are symbolic of graduation and have long since lost the destinction of higher learning.

I am for the cap and gown graduation for two reasons. First it is an inexpensive garb that is becoming to all ages and would eliminate inequality.

Second, and a very important reason, is to establish a custom of dress which will end the loss of school time taken each year to hash over what to wear for one hour.

Our eighth graders go to school four hours and ten minutes a day and a good forty-five minutes of that time is lost on recess and P. E. The remaining two hundred and five minutes must be divided between spelling, reading, government, arithmetic, science, English, art, glee club, speech and what have you.

Therefore I feel it necessary to utilize every minute of class time on academic subjects and the non-essentials should be left to the after school hours.

Just recently it has been my duty to interview young people for a simple job with commensurate pay. The applicants were many and the story repeated itself, that is, why they sought a position at their age and were not continuing on to higher levels of education. School was too difficult—they just couldn't get the hang of it all—so they resorted to what they thought was the path of least resistance.

Let's strive to give our boys and girls the education needed and not put so much importance on what they shall wear for one hour.

Sincerely,
Marie Sorensen

TALK OF THE TOWN

By DIANE DALY

This is the week that mothers in our town, and some fathers too, have their Easter Egg Hunt. They are still findings eggs or their fillings in every nook and cranny in the house. Little things like carmel and marshmallow are standard decor on at least one upholstered piece, and egg shells and shredded paper grass appear in the most unusual places. More than one home is gorgeously displaying an Easter lily, almost in the shadow of a bottle of castor oil. And over all is just a hint of gloom left behind as the youngsters begrudgingly went back to school. (Thank Goodness.) The Easter bunny is under suspicion of having brought some cases of chicken-pox and measles along with his bounty, but this is strictly an adult deduction, so will not hurt his reputation with the kiddies. Anyway, the mothers are taking it all in stride and are pleased that the weatherman is at least on his best behavior, making easier the necessary chores. It is indeed a poetic moment when you can see a happy home and loved ones reflected in a line of sweet-smelling laundry, sparkling in the sun.

Since everything that goes on around us effects our home or family in some way, there has been a gradual and unmistakable surge of anger and indignation among the women everywhere, which has given way to deep contemplation and resolve. . . .

I am speaking, of course, of the shameful exposures of the Kefauver hearings. . . .

Delinquency, it seems, is not confined to juveniles, but has corrupted offices of the highest integrity. If television has done nothing else, it has directed the light of day into many dark corners by revealing the actual testimony of witnesses and, the record, as it stands, is the most exhaustive sweep of riff-raff since the Pied Piper cleared Hamlin Towne. . . . (Also of rats.)

Contrary to the belief of some I am firmly of the opinion that this "spring house-cleaning" is going to be a very thorough one, even if it does bring out a lot of dirty linen and skeletons in some closets. Most important of all, it is at last penetrating the consciousness of many, that the contributing causes—betting on the horses, playing the pin-ball machines and chance games, "paying off" the cop, and other blind causes—are the human frailties which gangsters and their ilk turn into a lucrative business, taking double toll by buying their candidate for public office to serve them—not the public interest. This is only the mildest aspects—Drug addicts, murderers, tragic and broken lives, are left on the highways and by-ways of organized crime.

It is the quiet resolve of all thinking mothers and fathers that this cancer must be stopped, and the only effective weapons we can use, in our own spheres, is active and vigilant participation in political and civic affairs, exercising our citizenship and making democracy work by our careful vote.

Restaurants Must File With OPS By April 30

Every operator of a restaurant, cocktail lounge, soft drink fountain, cafeteria or any other type of public eating place is urged by the regional Office of Price Stabilization to obtain a copy of Ceiling Price Regulation 11 as soon as possible, so he may determine ceiling prices for use in his establishment by April 1 and file required reports by April 30.

The definition of food under the regulation includes both alcoholic and non-alcoholic beverages.

Copies of CPR-11 are available at the OPS District Office for this area, located at 870 Market Street, telephone KL. 2-2350.

Menu Prices

CPR-11 allows public eating places to adjust menu prices to reflect actual increases in food costs. It replaces on April 1, 1951, provisions of the General Ceiling Price Regulation of January 26 applicable to such establishments.

Reports to be filed by April 30 with the OPS District Office must show the establishment's method of operation and the "food cost per dollar of sales" in effect for the base period. Operators of restaurant chains located over more than one OPS district may file required records and reports with the OPS Regional Office, 870 Market Street, San Francisco.

The following features of the regulation are called to the attention of all businesses affected by it:

Fix Prices

1. Any place, establishment or location, whether temporary or permanent, at or from which any meals or prepared food or beverages (alcoholic or non-alcoholic) are sold, is covered by the regulation. Any place from which food items or beverages, whether prepared or not, are sold primarily for consumption on the premises is also covered. This means not only restaurants, cafes, cafeterias, hotels (including room service), bars and cocktail lounges, but delicatessens, soda fountains, boarding houses, catering establishments, athletic stadiums, field kitchens, lunch wagons, hot dog carts, etc. Exemptions apply under certain conditions to meals served by hospitals educational institutions or fraternal, charitable, religious or cultural organizations and eating coperatives formed by Armed Forces personnel.

2. Beginning April 1, each establishment must fix its prices in line with CPR-11. After that date, no establishment covered by the regulations shall sell any meals, food items, beverages or services at prices which reflect a "lower food permitted by the regulation and it cost per dollar of sales" than is shall not sell at prices higher than the ceiling prices established for its operation.

3. The owner must fix prices so as to maintain for a four-month period starting April 1, 1951, a "food cost per dollar of sales" which is no lower than in his base period. As his base period, he may select either the calendar year 1949, or the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1949, and ending June 30, 1950.

4. The regulation includes special provisions for new restaurants and seasonal establishments.

BAYSHORE VISITACION VALLEY

By Bernice Hendryx JUniper 4-6449

Another note to remind you that the Fire Commission election is upon us. The voting place for all of Bayshore will be the Fire Hall, at Geneva Ave. and Schwerin Sts. The pols will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Four men are running for the office, and two of them must be elected. The men that are seeking office are Les Parker, F. Barbara, John Pawson, and Ed Haines. Turn out and vote.

There was a special meeting of the Water Board last week, to appoint an election board and designate the polling place for the Water Board election, to be held May 1. Two men have filed for the position. They are Vincent Morris, the incumbent, and Jim Mills. The polling place will be the Voters League Hall, at 125 Acacia.

Complaints came in by the drove again last week over the stench in Bayshore. Calls were made to Consolidated Chemical to complain, and they said they would do everything they could to clear up the condition.

We have had this stink in Bayshore for many years. Letters have been written through our organizations, and the condition is corrected for awhile. Seems the only way we can keep the thing bearable is to continue periodically to scream.

The valley extends its sincere sympathy to Lawrence Filarski for the loss of his father a short time ago. Mr. Filarski lived in Hanford, and Lawrence attended services there.

PTA Bazaars

The big PTA Bazaar comes off this week, on April 4. All kinds of clothing will be sold, right down to baby clothes. Hot dogs and cupcakes will be sold during the lunch hour, and each youngster that buys his lunch there, will be given a bottle of Coke free. Games and grab bags will also be on sale.

The Sanitation Hall was broken into last week, but the report is still incomplete as to what was stolen. The juke box was cleaned out, and the cabinet belonging to Troop 42 of the Girl Scouts was broken into. It isn't known yet whether anything was taken from the cabinet or not. The sheriff's ofifce sent men up here, but no one had an idea of just when the theft took place, so there was little to go on.

Showers

Two bang-up surprise showers were kiven recently in the valley, preceeding the April 15 wedding of Wanda Marie Filarski, daughter of Hendrik and Stella Filarski, of 444 Orineta St. Wanda's friends gave her a kitchen shower, and the ladies of the Baptist Church also gave her a shower.

Wanda will marry Eugene L. Farrell, a 1st Class Storekeeper, stationed at Treasure Island. The marriage will take place on April 18, at 3 p.m., at the Baptist Church. The reception will be at the Sanitation Hall, and friends are invited to attend. The couple will honeymoon in southern California and Mexico, and will make their home in Berkeley.

The Improvement Club had their regular meeting last week, and moved to Sponsor the Boys Scouts again this year. They also moved to have a dance the second week in May, with half of the proceeds to go to the Boy Scouts' Treasury. Mr. H. Brey was appointed chairman of the dance. The Club also donated $10.00 to the Cancer Drive.

Excitement

Last departures from the Junior Livestock Show at the Cow Palace brought a little excitement to a part of Bayshore. A small panel truck, with trailer attached, caught fire coming down the hill, and the fire department put out the blaze at Geneva and Oriente Sts. The car was out of commission, and that presented a problem. In the trailer that was attached, were two prize calves, on their way home with their prize ribbons. While D:d went for reinforcements, the two children in the car unloaded their precious cargo, and turned them out to graze in a nearby lot. Wonder if our brand of weeds gave the critters indigestion?

The Cancer Drive is getting under way again in Bayshore. First on the agenda is a teen age dance, to be held March 31 at the Voters League Hall. The kids have dreamed up their own decorations, and it is really outstainding. Their ideas are original and practical. They have formed themselves a large committee, and are really doing the thing right.

Telephone Whist

The ladies of the Fire Auxiliary are giving a telephone whist on April 20, and the proceeds will also go to the Cancer Drive.

A puppet show has been arranged for the younger children, to be held at the Bayshore School, in the Auditorium. In addition to these doings, a quilt will be raffled in the district. Proceeds from all of these activities will go to the Cancer Drive, and we are happy to see the number of people that are willing to donate their time to aiding this cause.

Mrs. Dunham returned this week from a short vacation trip to San Diego. She reports the weather beautiful, and the holiday successful.

Mrs. Rachel Higgins is taking back her number 3 Den of the Cub Scouts. Mrs. Glendenning was kind enough to take the Den temporarily, while Mrs. Higgins was busy having a baby.

Ray's Coffee Shop Now Open In Daly City

Opening a new restaurant in Daly City this week is Ray Freeman, former master chef of the Golden Rule Cafe on Market Street.

The eating establishment is known as "Ray's Coffee Shop," and is located at 6286 Mission Street. This is the location of the former Mitchell's Coffee Shop.

Serving breakfast, lunch and dinner, the restaurant will be open seven days a week from 6 a.m. to midnight. On Friday and Saturday Ray promises to stay open 24 hours.

Ray, who has had 24 years of experience in cooking everything from eggs to eight course dinners, promises to serve only the best food at more reasonable prices. Indications are that he means just what he says.

"We hope that everyone will stop in and try a meal, whether it be breakfast, lunch, or dinner," Ray said today. "Also, on Sunday we are serving a special family dinner."

S.F. May Set Up City Car Pool

In an attempt to regularize use of city-owned automobiles the Board of Supervisors, Mayor Elmer Robinson and Chief Administrative Officer Thomas A. Brooks are considering creation of a car pool of publicly owned automobiles.

The motor pool was considered by the Board in 1948 but the proposal was sidetracked in general consideration of San Francisco's off-street parking program, Supervisors said. The Mayor asked Brooks to outline garage space required for a city motor pool with a long-range plan to allocate space in the proposed Civic Center underground garage for its operation.

Brooks has called for a study to provide space for the pool at the new corporation yard at Army and DeHaro Streets, where bulk of the city cars could be maintained, with an emergency fleet at the City Hall curb space for use as needed.

Lorraine Remmer And Dong Lunghi Exchange Vows At O.L.P.H. March 11

Lorraine Remmer became the bride of Don Lunghi at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church at 4 p.m. on March 11, Rev. Father Daley officiating.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Verna DeCoito, formerly of Daly City and now residing in San Carlos was given in marriage by the late Dr. John Doyle.

Her dress was of white satin with a fitted waist and Peter Pan collar, embroidered with seed pearls and sequins. She wore a matching crown with finger tip veil. Her bouquet was of two white orchids on a mother of pearl prayer book. The bridal bouquet was caught by Don's sister.

For something old, the bride wore her grandmothers wedding ring. For something new, the bride wore the traditional blue garter, which was caught by Mr. Donald Chechi.

Mrs. Shirley Zocchi, matron of honor and sister of the bride, was crowned in light green moire taffeta and carried pink roses and barnadia. The bridesmaids, were Mrs. Ferol Tarantino, Miss Joanne Frazier and Mrs. Gloria Lowenstein. All wore light green moire taffeta and carried pink roses.

Standing with Don as best man was Mr. Ben Lewenstein. The ushers were Leonard Lewenstein, Floyd Gonella and John Tarantino.

Mrs. De Coito, mother of the bride, wore a navy blue suit with pink accesories. Don's mother, Mrs. Grace Bria, was attired in a black and white dress, both mothers wore orchid corsages.

The reception was held at Lovchen Gardens in Colma where many friends and relatives attended. Lorraine and Don are now honeymooning in Southern California and Mexico and upon their return they will make their home in Daly City. Lorraine's going away outfit, was a grey and white check bolero suit with Navy blue and red accesories.

Don and Lorraine, both graduates of Jefferson High School, are well known in Daly City and Colma. Don is the son of Mr. Joseph Lunghi, 69 San Pedro Avenue, Daly City.

DEAR PARENTS

By Jane Keith

Charles was six that summer day in 1905 and he was working and sweating hard over the best present of them all—a pile of old boards from a torn down hen house in his Denver back yard.

He was building the best playhouse in the whole world—his own—with walls to be lined with worn quilts donated by his mother; a "hiding" hole in the floor and even a large tin can with holes in the top for a stove!

The house rose, finished in his mind, so complete that he could even smell the fragrance of not yet stolen bacon watering his mouth; the secret darkness of it already blacking out the hot noon sunshine.

A rusty nail suddenly thrust through the ball of his foot probing the bright vision from his mind with deep, throbbing pain. An innocent looking little puncture that bled only a few drops when his mother pulled the nail out and which closed itself up tightly.

He slept that afternoon with a cool cloth on his head for comfort, but by evening the pain crept up his leg and into his shoulder; his head ached intolerably. Not suddenly, but certainly, he became rigid—his jaws locked tight. Charles, at six, had tetanus—and there was no known serum with which to fight the killer.

The family doctor, summoned by the frantic mother, took one look and got busy. The measures he took seem unbelievable to us now, but there was a chance—just a chance, mind you, that by using them he could save the boy's life; otherwise the outcome was dead certain!

The boy's foot was slit lengthwise to the full depth of the wound, then crosswise—making an elongated cross of puffed and bloody flesh which frothed with the peroxide pouring over it from the bottle in the doctor's hand.

Mother and doctor waited over the moaning bundle on the bed while the bubbles of peroxide cleansed the cut of its tiny, deadly particles of dirt. Carbolic acid next with its pungent odor, its strength of disinfection—a bandage, and medical science had done its best. Wait and see!

Charles pulled through—in fact he told me this story last week after a neighbor's little girl had scratched her hand on a rusty nail while playing. The killer, tetanus, is not dead these days but dormant if proper precautions are taken against it.

Betty Ann's mother had spent a worried night watching her daughter's temperature rise higher and higher. When a headache developed she called her pediatrician and rushed off in a taxi for an extra anti-tetanus shot.

Betty Ann will pull through, also, and there will be no weary months on crutches for her as there were for Charles. No one will ever know whether she really had lockjaw, but she DID have something which is still a baffler for workers in preventive medicine! The day after her trip to the doctor she blossomed out with a beautiful case of chickenpox and so, I suppose, will we!

JR. ROD AND GUN NOTES

By George Johnson

BASS FISHING

Bill and Dick Evans and their parents went bass fishing at Wingo Slough on the Napa River Sunday, March 18. One fish, a 11¾ inch striped bass, was caught by Dick; but like a true sportsman, he threw the undersized fish back.

Again on March 20 Bill Evans, with Gary Anderson, went fishing on the Sacramento River. On the way up they report it was pretty cold, but it warmed up later. The report of the previous day's fine catch, ranging between 3 and 18 pounds, was not repeated by the two lads. They fished all day without a bite.

JUNIOR ROD & GUN

The last meeting of the club was held March 21.

The next archery practice is to be held April 7, with the rifle shoot planned for March 27.

The beach fishing trip for the club is set for April 8 at Rockaway Beach.

George Scally showed the members the different kinds of casting gear and showed them how to cast. He also gave a very fine talk on junior tournaments, and the different prizes offered.

Wayne Flansburg was appointed chairman of the casting team. The members of the casting team will meet at Jefferson High School Sunday, April 15, for practice.

Uncle Joe Dearing of the Call Bulletin donated some fishing gear to the club, which in turn was distributed to Freddie Bertetta, Bob Brandt, Ron Davis, Dick Evans and George Johnson. The gifts consisted of a line cleaner, 50 feet of fly line and various spinners.

The annual picnic of the Daly City Rod & Gun Club is going to be held at Honda Park. The Juniors are going to take care of the parking lot, and will be at the gate to direct the guests. Dick Barnes is chairman of the committee, asisted by Bill Evans and Freddie Bertetta.

At the last meeting, 42 bottles of soda water were purchased for refreshments. After the meeting the refreshments committee found someone had stolen them. The club was forced to put out $3.50 for something none of the members enjoyed.

CAMPING

Bill Morgan and Ronald Owen went camping in the Santa Cruz Mountains on March 19 to 20. They swam in the San Leandro River and they report plenty of salmon coming up river. On their way home they fished off the pier at Santa Cruz and caught a few shiners.

Don't forget the Rod & Gun Club fishing trip at Steamboat Slough on March 31 and April 1. Everyone is invited, and this should be a grand success. Those interested in going are asked to call Harry Johnson, PLaza 5-1732.

Reginald Calvert will serve as Jr. Past Worthy President next year.

Cub Fair Coming Saturday Night

The San Francisco Cub Scout Council will present a Cub Fair, a basic training for adults in the techniques of instructing cubs, Saturday night in the San Francisco Armory at 14th and Mission Streets.

The fair will be an opportunity for every parent of cubs, leader, den mothers, and pack committee men to experience an introduction to the progress of cub scouting. The subject will be the fundamentals of cub scouting.

Various cub packs, including the Daly City packs, will have booths displaying crafts and games. The booths will have a twofold purpose: to entertain the visitors and to train them in instructing cubs.

Saturday night's fair, which is just for adults, will have five shows and refreshments.

The Cub Fair is the first of four sessions. The next three sessions to be held on April 5, 12 and 19, at Commodore Sloat School, Junipero Serra Boulevard and Ocean Avenue, are primarily business courses.

Certificates in cub training will be awarded to those who attend all of the sessions.

Easter Services Prove Successful

The Easter Season at the Grace Prsbyterian Church was record making in all the services.

Sunday school attendance was the highest of the year.

The two morning worship services had full houses with the Grace Church Choir under the direction of Miss Marian Walker and Mrs. E. Hanson, organist, at its best.

Fifty new members were received into the felowship of the church.

At the Vesper service 21 adults and 11 children received the Sacrament of Baptism. The pastor, the Rev. William Harberts, Ph.D., officiated.

With this new inspiration Grace Church is glad to minister to all who worshipped with it.

Regular Services will be resumed next Sunday. Sunday school is at 9:45 a.m. and the Morning Worship is at 11 o'clock.

Rev. C. H. Jope Guest Minister

Rev. Clifford H. Jope, minister of the First Christian Church of San Francisco, will preach every Sunday morning at the 9:30 Worship and Communion Service at the Ocean View Branch Sunday School and Church.

Rev. Jope will speak on "Service and Its Reward" in his opening service Sunday morning. A choir of young people under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Smith, music director, will take part in the service. The Lord's Supper will be observed.

The organization meets at 107 Sagamore Street. The building has ben newly equipped for the opening service.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

The Sunday School, which is supervised by Mrs. Henry Blair and Mrs. Earl Lefebvre, has been functioning for the past six months and is now being enlarged into a mornworship service also.

The project is sponsored by the state organization of Christian Churches.

San Luis Obispo is built around the old Mission which was founded September 1, 1772 by Junipero Serra.

Over 2,000 local youngsters enjoyed this year's Easter Egg Hunt, which was blessed by the weather man and made for a perfect day.

More parents were in attendance this year than in the past and they enjoyed the outing as much as the young people. These boys and girls were luckier than the others in that they found prize eggs: Bobby Kirchenbauer, Judy and Bobby Sick, Gary Miller, Julius Bertolucci and Judy Sardi; these children were in the five years and under group. In the six to eight years group Clifford Fulwieder, Michael Drew, Billy Pickering, Robert Wismans, Jimmy Dogherra, James Taylor and Therasa Fricani. Please note, the spelling of some of these names will no doubt be erroneous, but under the hectic conditions in which they were received, this is the best we can do.

At the Frankfort site: Mrs. Blackburn, Mrs. Hobbs, Mrs. Ingersoll, Mrs. Wakefield, Mrs. Beuanti, Mrs. Gensel, Mrs. Lauffenburger, and Mrs. Eason. We in the Recreation Department wish to extend our thanks once more to each and everyone of you fine people who joined us in making this year's "Hunt" bigger and better than ever. To all of you whose names were overlooked, please excuse us and accept our appreciation along with those whose names appear above.

Memorial Poppies Honor Korean Dead

Memorial poppies to be worn on Poppy Day in May in honor of America's war dead are being made by the mililons by disabled war veterans working in hospitals and convalescent workrooms in all parts of the country, according to Mrs. Pete Bordson, poppy chairman of the local auxiliary unit.

This year the flowers will honor the Korean War dead, as well as the dead of the two World Wars. More than 30,000,000 will be distributed by the auxiliary this year, Mrs. Bordson estimated.

The poppies which will be distributed here are being made at the Palo Alto Veterans' Hospital.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

by Henry C. MacArthur

SACRAMENTO. (CNS) — Some distant rumblings are beginning to be heard for combined city and county governments where so-called "fringe" area problems are besetting citizens, city councils, boards of supervisors and legislators alike.

Mounting city and county tax rolls, which theoretically, at least, could be sliced by the partial elimination of one set of government officials are giving impetus to proposed studies for the establishment of count-wide metropolitan areas.

The city and county of San Francisco has been operating for many years as a county government. The small area of San Francisco plus the fact there were no other incorporated cities in the area, simplified the problem at the Golden Gate.

Big Problem

The problem, it was pointed out, would be more complex in counties like Sacramento, Alameda, Santa Clara, or San Diego, where large numbers of incorporated cities would have to be "sold on the idea of giving up their autonomy, with the reward to the citizen only the possibility of lowered taxes.

Some sort of a compromise, however, is sought in a growing battle between the cities of the state, the unincorporated communities, and the fringe areas of the state's larger cities.

Residents of a city object, and it is said, not without justification, to paying taxes for support of city service in contiguous areas outside of the city. The example of Castro Valley, in Alameda county, where the sheriff's office maintains what is termed "city police protection," is cited as one example.

Taxed, Plus

The contention is that while Castro Valley residents pay only county taxes, they get what compares to city police protection, and the citizens of other communities such as Oakland and Berkeley pay for this protection plus city taxes for their own police departments.

Such procedures could be halted under provisions of SB-769 by Senator Nathan Coombs, of Napa. The bill provides the board of supervisors may assess such districts for special services rendered.

But on the other hand, the contention is that the bill would not solve the ultimate problem in the metropolitan areas, for the simple reason that all such areas are growing, and eventually, the county will be in effect a "city outside an incorporated city."

What the taxpayers would end up with, then, would be two or more cities, the larger areas being unincorporated, and in some counties, larger than the cities themselves.

Coombs Bill

The League of California cities, which maintains a powerful lobby in Sacramento, will sponsor the Coombs bill, and its companion in the assembly by Assemblyman A. I. Stewart, of Pasadena.

Now a new lobby has made its appearance in capitol halls, which is known as the "League of California Unincorporated Communities," headed by Judge William D. Keller, of Lancaster. Judge Keller says his organization will "vigorously fight" to protect taxation and legislative interests of these communities, and will sponsor new bills to offset the legislation offered by the league of California cities.

"We propose to submit a bill for the selectman type of government," he said, "so the unincorporated areas can avoid being swallowed up by city anexation proceedings or be forced to become incorporated cities or be saddled with nuisance taxes."

However, it is an old maxim of government that the citizens of a state can't get services without taxes, and as some legislators point out, the quicker the public looks to economy in government through consolidations and other methods, the better break the taxpayer will receive.

Small Business Hearing Slated

Small businessmen of the San Francisco Bay Region and Northern California will have an opportunity to state their problems related to the national emergency to a Congressional committee in San Francisco on April 2 and 3, according to an announcement made today by the San Francisco office of Congresman John F. Shelley.

For the purpose of learning about the problems of manufacturers, distributors and retailers, a subcommittee of the House Small Business Committee will be in California for hearings in San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego during the first week in April.

Arrangements for the San Francisco hearing are being made through the cooperation of Congressman Shelley's office, the San Francisco office of the National Production Authority, the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce and affiliated organizations.

Persons desiring to appear at the hearing, which will be held in Room 307, Federal Post Office Building, Seventh and Mission Streets, San Francisco, are urged to notify Don L. Bradley, Field Representative for Congressman Shelley, at Room 1327, 100 McAllister Street, telephone UNderhill 1-6515.

In addition to Bay Area Congressmen who will participate in the hearing, the subcommittee will include Representative Mike Mansfield, chairman; Representative Abraham J. Multer; Clinton D. McKinnon, and William S. Hill.

Subjects about which the Congresmen desire to hear from small businessmen include materials shortages, government procurement procedures, the financing of small business, price stabilization programs, and other current problems caused by the national emergency.

The hearings which the Congressional group will hold in San Francisco on April 2 and 3 will be the only ones held in Northern California, according to the announcement.

Young Republicans Back Whitemore

Sheriff Earl B. Whitmore's office received a boost last night from the Young Republicans of San Mateo County.

James E. Mack, Chairman of the Young Republican Committee on County matters, asked for approval by the Executive Committee of the Sheriff's request for additional perscnnel. He said the Committee based its recommendation on their recent study of the personnel situation in the county office.

Mack also pointed out that the Grand Jury has recommended similar action.

The County Young Republican group was unanimous in its endorsement of the Committee report.

Proctor Jones, president of the organization, announced that letters would be sent to the appropriate officials advising them of the action. He said, "In matters such as this, however, our job is just starting. We will give active supoprt to the sheriff at hearings and public meetings. If necessary, our group will take further action to assist in the accomplishment of the policy."

He added, "A modern law enforcement agency can not provide efficient protection unless its staff bears some relation in size to the county population. The 1940 size sheriff's organization doesn't fit the 1951 job to be done by that office.

SPORTS

D.C. Sportswomen

Members Succeed In Efforts "To Hook" New Sportswomen

by Mrs. E. K. Whinnen

At the meeting of the Daly City Sportswomen on March 21 the prospective new members outnumbered the members present.

Nearly all the prospective members the Sportswomen have been baiting the hook for, for the last two months, showed up at the last meeting, and better still, all said theiy thought they would join. This is good news for the Sportswomen as there has been a concerted effort to build up the membership. Among this group of prospective members too, is at least one all around sportswoman, Eleanor Lech, who took top place in the shoot sponsored by the Daly City Rod and Gun last year. Not only that but she goes hunting and fishing with her husband all the time, and belongs to the Golden Gate Archery Club as well.

Another guest who was quite a surprise was Anita Nystedt, a former member who had to drop out because of her husband's hours. Anita said she thought she might join us again, too. We'll be looking for you at the next meeting, Anita. The other guests of the evening were: Siema Pearlman, wife of Harold Pearlman, president of the Daly City Rod and Gun, Helen Baden, Marion McKaskle, Naomi Stone, brought by Leanora O'Neill.

A report was made on the Huck Finn Pool fishing by one of the Sportswomen, and a weary "Amen," said by at least one of the two members who worked there every day. It was pretty strenuous, but it was fun.

Seek Jackets

A very interesting report was made by Mary Shalkowski, in absentia, on the jackets. By far the nearest thing to what the Sportswomen have been looking for was covered in the report, and at a price all felt was reasonable. Now it remains for the club to decide what style will best suit the needs of the club. This is good news and a long step forward. Now to start "riding" Al Spears to draw up our emblem, 'til in desperation to get rid of us, he does.

Marge Lynch reported on the fund raising efforts and it was agreed that it was successful, even though the time was an exceptionally busy one for most of us and much sickness had to be contended with too; also the time left us after all arrangements were made was too short. But the exchequer is now in good shape, and it is hoped the future plans of the club will go forward accordingly.

The May Day float was discussed and some of the materials will be turned over to Leanora O'Neill at the next meeting—that is if the members don't forget to bring them.

Emily Brouillette was appointed chairman to look into prices and lengths of a bay boat trip projected for summer vacation. She will report at the next meeting.

Highlights on the activities of District Council 7 was given by Mildred Whinnen, and covered such important items as a bill to make it unlawful for any commercial place to possess striped bass.

Deerhide Sales

Sale of deerhides on a voluntary basis was approved by the council. Killing of predatory birds that eat the fish planted in Lake Merced is underway, and a cleaning up program to make available more beaches for bank fishing, and to hire more men to patrol the lake was proposed.

All those over eighteen will be required to pay $1 for fishing privileges for the season or 25c a trip this year. This is to defray the expense of upkeep of the lake.

The Sportswomen regret the resignation of Mary Shalkowski, an ardent sportswoman and a good worker. Mary will be working nights for some time and it will be impossible for her to attend meetings.

Missed was Frances Nenstiel, who rarely misses a meeting.

Jeff Nine Meet Balboa Friday In Practice Game

Sporting a five won and four lost record, Coach Glenn South's Jefferson High nine entertains the invading Balboa High Buccaneers of San Francisco at 3:15 tomorrow afternoon (March 30) on the Daly City field.

The Jeffs dropped a 4-0 contest to Lincoln High of San Francisco on the Jefferson field Wednesday. Jim Hatchel pitched creditable bal, but five Indian errors betrayed him.

The Mustangs' Sid Hall broke up the game with a two run homer in the fifth frame. The San Francisco club added two more tallies in the seventh inning.

Last week the Jeffs jumped upon Mission High's hurler Higgins for 13 basehits to rack up a 7-4 win over the Bears on the local field.

Ed Cereghino handled the mound chores for the Indians allowing nine hits and striking out 12 men. The Bears' centerfielder Slack clouted a three-run homer off Cereghino in the fourth inning.

Shortstop Giannicchini and Right Fielder Jenkins paced the Jeff attack with three hits apiece.

Marble Tournament Winners Named

Wednesday afternoon the top level at Marchbanks Park was invaded by youngsters from all over the city.

The youngsters assembled at Marchbanks Park to participate in the Annual Marble Tournament. These boys were declared "Dead-Eyes" and won top honors in their respective groups. Nine years and under: John Tarnzo, 1st, and John Miller, 2nd; 10-12 year group, Joe Littiere, 1st, and Walter Sacchieri, 2nd; and in the unlimited group Herbert Ayres, 1st, and James Courts, 2nd. The winners were successful in knocking out more marbles from the 10 foot ring than the other participants.

Golden Gate League Game Slated Sunday

It appears that at long last the final battle of the Golden Gate Park Champion Baseball League will be fought out this Sunday.

The contestants are the mighty Sarto's and the Gordon Realty. It has taken just about three months to bring about this game . . . a game which was scheduled to have concluded at the end of last year's season.

Now that the big event is at hand (it is scheduled for 2:15 p.m. at the Big Rec field in Golden Gate Park) Sarto's report that they are lacking in pitchers. All the lads have either left for greener fields, or are now playing college ball.

The golden hope of the boys Sunday is Tito Sarto, who is now pitching for USF. He has a game for his school slated Friday, but it is hoped he will be able to be on the mound again Sunday for the local lads.

Gordon Realty is a strong team that defeated Sarto's by one point a few months ago. Chance are they will emerge on top again Sunday, but only after a hard fight.

Be sure and turn out for the game. Give the home town lads a big hand.

State Fair Race Purse Increased $1500

MARCH 29. (CNS)—Secretary-Manager Ned Green today announced the purse for the inaugural handicap at the California State Fair which will be run August 30, has been increased from $3,500 to $5,000, and the feature on the opening day card will provide a preview of the governor's handicap and its $10,000 added purse.

The action was taken by the state fair board of directors in an effort to lift the caliber of racing at the fair which is rapidly developing into a major horse racing meet. Minimum purses are now $1,200.

One owner has announced he will enter a horse in the governor's handicap and, with the boost in the inaugural purse, will probably have the same entry in the opening day feature.

He is George Klump, of Sacramento, former part owner of the Sacramento Solons of the Pacific Coast League, who sold his club stock and returned to the sport of kings.

Klump will be remembered as a member of the old K. K. Stable when he was teamed up with "Pinches" Kunz, also of Sacramento and at one time a Pittsburgh Pirate star. The partnership was ended when Klump entered baseball and "Pinches" took over the stable.

It appears Klump got out of baseball at a profit just in time for the fortunes of the Solons appear on the wane. He has had good luck so far at the major tracks, one horse, Bullrelis, winning several races.

Klump has obtained a son of Sea Biscuit, Sea Gambol by name, who will run in the governor's handicap and will probably see action in the inaugural.

Elk Conservation Authorized By Game Commission

Herd reduction practices on the tule elk population at the State's Tupman refuge paid off this year with the survival of 10 calves—compared to a survival of only two young elk the previous year—it is reported by the Division of Fish and Game.

The Fish and Game Commission last year authorized a cut in the hungry herd to a number more suited to the dwindling supply of forage food on the 950-acre refuge. Zoos and civic groups claimed some of the animals, and others were shot and turned over to Kern County welfare organizations for food.

Bad Shape

All of the elk were in poor condition. From a population of more than 100 head in 1949, only two calves survived. The 40 adults remaining in 1950 produced a healthy crop of 10 calves which survived.

Game Manager David M. Sellack reported the general condition of the herd has improved slightly in spite of a dry year and shortage of natural fod. Additional trapping of adults will be undertaken this fall to prevent permanent damage to the refuge range.

The Tupman herd is one of four sizeable herds of tule elk in California and the only one with refuge status. A herd estimated to number between 100 and 150 head make their home in the Cache Creek area of Yolo, Colusa, and Lake Counties. More than 200 tule elk transplanted from Yosemite National Park and Tupman are in Inyo County, and about 100 head are residents of central coastal counties.

More Herds

Other herds of Roosevelt and Rocky Mountain elk are established in northern California.

The State's elk populations have long been a problem to game managers, Selleck revealed. Civilization has driven the tule elk from their original valley homes to isolated esecondary ranges where habitat and forage conditions are far from ideal. Live-trapping and transplanting has been done successfully in the past, but the availability of suitable range has dropped sharply in recent years.

JOBS FOR WOMEN STILL SCARCE

MARCH 29. (CNS)—Although thousands of women are returning to the labor force of California, jobs are not increasing for the feminine sex as fast as they are seeking work.

James G. Bryant, state director of the Department of Employment, made this announcement today, stating that approximately 45 per cent more women were placed in jobs this year than at the same period last year.

"Women who have not been active on the labor force," he said, "are now making themselves available for employment in industries having both a direct and indirect relationship with defense production.

Tobacco And Milk Won't Mix Well

March 29. (CNS)—Tobacco and milk don't mix.

Agricultural experts here today advised dairymen not to smoke while milking, for milk quickly picks up odors from cigarets or pipe tobacco and becomes tainted.

Another safety precaution is not to send milk to markets in old, worn out containers, for the milk may be rejected or downgraded and the dairyman will lose money on the deal.

Milk can linings should be checked frequently and when scratched or broken the can should be retired. Such a can is still good for carrying whey or skimmed milk but only the best containers should be used for market milk.

And, as a last piece of advice, the experts say one mistake dairymen frequently make is to let the chlorine mix they use set in the cans.

Rinse the can only, empty and fill with milk immediately. Then the chlorine doesn't have a chance to react on the lining of the can.

Drive slowly and carefully and expect the unexpected when driving near the curb on a city street, advises the National Automobile Club.

Meet Your City Officials

Wondering How To Win Friends Or Woo The Gals? . . . Ask "Smitty"

Elwin J. Smith, better known to scores of residents as "Smitty" is an affectionate gentleman of 61 years who can greet more people by their first name in this town than possibly anyone else; and, moreover, his greeting is always bound to receive a friendly smile from the women, or a rough, heartfelt joke from the men.

Although Smitty has never read books on "How To Win Friends and Influence People," he has the innate ability to charm everyone with his philosophical outlook on the world. This can be summed up by a warm laugh and a sincere belief that the majority of guys and gals are "pretty good people."

Meeting Place

As janitor-in-chief (or, to be technical, sanitary engineer) for the city, Smitty has an opportunity to meet the populance while sweeping a hall, or cleaning the windows that grace the doors of city hall. He goes about his work with an ardour that is often lacking in other city officials. And while keeping city buildings clean six days a week may appear to be a pretty tough job, it is nothing compared to some of the jobs Smitty held down in his youth.

Born in the Excelsior district in 1890, Smitty was one of six children. His father, who ran a milk delivery route, made the magnificent sum of $35 a month. And while the Excelsior at that time was little more than farm country, $35 wasn't enough to support a large family.

Cigar Factory

So it was at 9-years-old, while not attending classes in the old Sunnyside School (this was a converted six room house, where the kids sat in straight back chairs and held a board on their laps for a desk) Smitty worked stripping tobacco for cigars. This job paid 50 cents a week.

Feeling that money was needed more than education— the feeling often centered in an empty stomach—Smitty got a job wrapping packages in an Oakland department store. Pay for a 64 hour-week: $2.50.

White Colars

This was one of the few white collar jobs Smitty has ever had. In fact, it was the white collar that finally made him throw over the whole thing in favor of another line of work.

"Here I was, 11-years-old, pulling down $2.50 a week. Half of that went for rent, and the rest for food. On top of that I was expected to buy white linen collars," Smitty explained.

Finding no room in his budget for the collars, the ingenious youth hit on a plan to beat the laundry bill. Shopping on Market street, he came across a rubber white collar. This neither wore out, nor needed expensive cleaning. One wipe of a sponge, and the collar was as good as new. Somehow the head of the wrapping department couldn't go along with the rubber collar. The next day Smitty was hunting for a new job.

On To Marina

Moving on to the Marina district, the 12-year-old lad hired himself out as a horse and wagon driver. His pay shot up a dollar a week. The only trouble was the hours also increased to where he was working from 3 a.m. to 10 p.m. every day, and half a day on Sunday.

While he soon was an expert driver, by the time he was 14 Smitty was convinced there wasn't much of a future driving a team. So at 14, when most boys are looking to high school and have yet to know the meaning of work, the boy hired out as a carpenter's aprentice at $5 a week.

A year later he went to work on his own as a plasterer and cement worker. He found he was doing so well at this type of work, that the first time he stuck at a job for more than two years. In fact, he remained in the building trade until 1928 when he was working as an independent contractor.

Big Setback

Things were looking pretty fair in the building business in 1906, but Smitty, along with thousands of others, was soon to take part in the biggest set back to construction in the history of San Francisco — the earthquake and fire.

Just three days before the big quake, 16-year-old Smitty moved from a boarding house on Mission between Seventh and Eighth to the beach. He took up residence in a building whose site can be seen today in the center of Playland. A day before the disaster a team of horses had smashed in the front door of the combination store and boarding house. At 5 o'clock the next morning, Smitty was awakened by a sound that resembled another team going through the still to be repaired front door.

Route Change

"I jumped out of bed to grab the driver," he relates. "When I couldn't find the horses, I figured I was hearing things. I was just ready to get back in bed when the second quake hit. It took me just three seconds to change my route from bed to my pants."

Outside again, Smitty was in time to see a 40 foot brick tower collapse on a pump station. It was a marvelous sight, except for the realization that the pump keeper and his wife had been buried in the debris. Seconds later, Smitty and several other men were digging out the couple, hoping against hope that the boiler in the building wouldn't explode. Two hours later they had rescued the pair, and were taking them via horse and wagon to an emergency relief hospital downtown.

Borrowed Time

"On the way back I went past the house I had left just three days before," Smitty recalls. "Where my room had been there was nothing but smouldering timbers and a pile of bricks. From there on out I figured I was living on borrowed time."

Outside of the earthquake, the second momentous occasion in Smitty's life occurred in 1912 when he met an Idaho girl by the name of Martha Johnson. The meeting came at a dance held by friends. Smitty was most certain that someone had suddenly tipped the floor at a 45 degree angle. The reason for this assumption was founded in a little brown jug. Despite his waning condition, Smitty was sure he had met a pretty grand girl.

Switches Names

Six month later Miss Johnson changed her name to another of the more common names in the phone book. The Smith's can boast of three children, two sons and a daughter. Presently, Smitty is living with his daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Harmon at 215 Miriam. Another son, James, is residing at 26 Bepler; while the third boy, E. J., has a ranch at Morgan Hill. There are five grandchildren.

Diaper Set

This more than a nodding acquaintance with the diaper set was to come in handy for Smitty in 1929 when he took a job with the Community Chest Agency which handles babies up to three months old. Although he was hired to maintain the buildings occupied by agency, it is no secret that between work and friendly flirtations with the nurses he often made a fast switch with a diaper.

Just about a year before he went to work for the Community Chest, Smitty paid a visit to Daly City. . . . the first since he had driven out for a "day in the country" in 1919.

"My wife and I were standing near the Relish Bakery. There were so many new homes around that I figured we were still in San Francisco. I got a queer look from a guy when I innocently asked, 'Were is Daly City."

County Life

While he didn't settle here until 1929, Smitty can recall Daly City as a community beyond San Francisco where Bay Area residents came for a day's holiday away from the bustle of city life. "It used to take a good day back in the early 1900s to get out here. I can remember wher civilization ended at 27th Street . . . that was where the car tracks gave up the ghost."

It was in 1944, at the urging of city councilmen, that Smitty resigned his job with the Community Chest and came to work for Daly City. Since then he has received several offers of other jobs, but his many friends in this community, combined with his loyalty to the city has kept him here.

Hobby

Today, Smitty is proudest of the spic and span condition of city hall and his ties with the Eagles. He had been a member of the Eagles for more years than most members can remember, and has held many posts down to his present position of trustee.

As for hobbys, Smitty slyly notes he has five: W-O-M-E-N. Although 61, he prides himself on being loyal to his wife, yet a Don Juan of more than average capacities. "It keeps me young," he boasts. "The women, I love them; each and everyone." Friends have come to realize that his yarns of amatory feats (not printable) are about 100 per cent good natured talk.

Perhaps it is this very thing, his ability to speak good naturedly about every subject from women to window cleaning, that has endeared the lad his father called Elwin J., but his friends call Smitty, to everyone who knows him in Daly City.

April Fool Dance Slated Saturday

A gala April Fools' dance will be given at Colombo Hall, Colma, this Saturday at 8 p.m. by members of the Broadmoor American Legion Post No. 824.

Although given one day before April Fools are celebrated, the dance is guaranteed to carry out the motif of the post-Lenten season. In fact, the Legion is so sure it will be a winner that all those note satisfied may have their money returned at the door.

The music of Paul Law's orchestra will resound throughout the hall.

And in addition to a dance, scores of gifts will be given away. The principal prize will be six months free front lawn service. (The Legion hopes the winer doesn't come up with an acre for a front lawn.)

All money not expended in prizes will be used by the Legion to further its work in Broadmoor.

Mrs. Prisco Elected Head Of Gen. Pershing

Mrs. Frank Prisco became the new President-elect for the General Pershing School PTA at the executive board meeting March 26. Office of Historian still remains unfilled.

Installation of the new Parent-Teacher Officers will be held at the General Pershing school at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 3, according to Mrs. D. C. Gensel, publicity chairman.

A dessert and coffee will be served at the close of the installation, in place of the regular dinner.

Every member is invited to attend and meet the new incoming oficers for the year 1951-52.

A letter of resignation was received from Mrs. Richard Traxler who held the office of vice-president for the past year.

A recommendation will be submitted to the general membership to raise the annual dues from 50c to $1.00. A second membership in a family need only be 50c.

The General Pershing PTA is one of the very few remaining units who still retain their original dues of 50c per person.

Members who helped on the annual Easter Egg Hunt, were Mesdames: Lyal Ingersoll, John Eason, John Benanti, D. C. Gensel, Wm. Hobbs, G. A. Blackburn, Orrin Wakefield, and A. W. Lauffenburger.

This affair is sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department and assisted by the PTA Units, Boy Scouts and Cubs, Girl Scouts and Brownies.

Twenty six persons completed the First Aid course, held in the General Pershing school. This course took nine weeks for completion.

An Advanced Course, for those who qualify, will begin Thursday, March 29, at 7 p.m., under the capable direction of Mr. Dean Wood, of the Daly City Police Dept.

A great deal of appreciation and thanks go to Mrs. A. W. Lauffenburger, president of the General Pershing PTA, for obtaining this instruction for this immediate area.

Toyland Nursery Extends Thanks

by Jane Keith

There's gold in the hearts, if not in the "profit pockets" of the Daly City businesmen who have helped ready the American Legion Hall for occupancy by the Toyland Nursery school on April 2nd.

Their names? Kennedy Electric Co., Gigli Plumbing, A. L. Stockton Lumber Co., K. C. Martin Cement, H. E. Donnelly painting contractors and the Paramount Venetian Blind Co. of San Francisco whose owner still has a soft spot for his boyhood town.

The response of these so-called "hard hearted" businessmen to a plea for their lowest possible estimates was overwhelmingly generous, according to Mrs. Grace Wilson, owner of Toyland.

"There was a tremendous amount of work to be done before the school could open," said Mrs. Wilson, "and believe me, it had to be done on a "shoe-string" budget. These men have made it possible for it to be done and I can not thank them enough."

Mrs. Donnelly, whose husband and two sons are doing the painting expressed gratitude from a different angle. "I'll never have to use the school," she said, "but I think it is a wonderful thing for the town and we're happy to do what we can to help it start. All you have to do is think of being a "working" or "war mother" and you can see what such a school would mean to you and your children!"

Mrs. Wilson would also like to thank those city and county officials who just did their job, but did it in such a way that it, too, was like a gift of friendliness and complete cooperation. Such officials deserve a cheer from all of us as our representatives. Thank you, Mr. Hopman, as building inspector; Mr. Kenedy, fire chief; Dan Andersen, city manager; and last, but not least, the council members who suffered many a headache with a smile before Toyland's status was established.

Come down to Toyland on registration day, March 31, between 12 to 4 p.m. The address is 574 San Diego Ave., just off Marchbanks Park.

YOUR GIRL SCOUT NEIGHBORHOOD CHAIRMAN REPORTS

by Brownie

The Girl Scout troops in the Peoria area are now in the midst of their Juliet Lowe teas, honoring Juliet Lowe, founder of girl scouting.

Two of the troops, Nos. 1 and 5, have held their teas. Brownie troops 7 and 11 have yet to give theirs. Reasons for the delay have been sicknes among the girls, preventing practice of the dances scheduled by these troops, and the time required to make costumes to carry out their themes of Chinese and Dutch symbolism. Since girl scouting is international the teas often use the costumes and themes of other countries.

The first tea of the four troops participating was given by intermediate troop 5, led by Robert Schmale, Madeline Anderson, and Bruna McKenna, at Bellevue Hall.

It was pretty and impressive with a well-rounded program of movies, candle lighting ceremony, skit, and folk dancing. The movie was the latest on girl scout entertaining out of doors. It showed the girl scouts serving dinner to the parents out on the grass of a lovely park. Looked most inviting.

Candle Light Ceremony

The candle lighting ceremony held that quality of freshness found in the efforts of children doing their best in an impressive rite.

The first candle was lit to the memory of Juliet Lowe, whose work and ideals founded girl scouting. The second candle was lit to honor the international sisterhood of girl scouting.

After the candles were lit the girls all joined in singing "Oh Beautiful Banner."

The girls rededicated themselves to the ideals of girl scouting by saying the girl scout pledge. After that a pantomine was given, entitled, "The Three Little Girls,"—who got into the jam, might have been added, as that was the substance of the pantomine.

When the program closed, refreshments were served on a nicely decorated table carrying out the Easter theme.

Consensus of opinion of attending parents was, "Well done, Leaders and Scouts, well done."

Troop 1 Holds Tea

Troop 1 held their tea and program at the Peoria St. scout house, which proved to be rather inadequate for the size of the attendance.

The program opened with the flag ceremony, which is the presentation of the flag with special girl scout ceremonies, the pledge of allegiance, and then the special girl scout ritual of retiring the flag. It is rather a complicated and impressive ceremony.

After the flag ceremony the court of awards was held and those girls who had earned badges were presented with them.

Songs and Pantomine

Songs were sung and the pantomine, "Snow White," was presented to the audience. The special attraction of the pantomine and the story told appealed to the audience and was well received.

The program was closed with a tap dance by Mary Lynn Sallade and tea was served to the appreciative guests by the troop. The hard working leaders of Troop 1 are Beatrice Dunn and Audry Sallade, with Wanda Michelsen leading the morning group.

The cookie sales of the Girl Scouts have long since passed, but a salute to the hardworking people who put these sales over, and a cheer for all the little girls who go from door to door ringing bells, and selling them.

TREAT SPEED WITH RESPECT

The wise motorist has learned to treat speed with the respect that is due it, declares the National Automobile Club. He is always alert and keeps wide awake to every possibility of change in the flow of traffic or in the turn of the road. He knows, and he knows full well, that if he gives speed a chance, it will kill him.

"We've driven our 5 Dodge cars over a million miles"

Says GEORGE GILL, Taxicab Fleet Operator, Red Bank, New Jersey

"When five standard Dodge sedans cover a million miles you begin to realize what Dodge dependability means. Four of our Dodges are still going strong. One, after 400,000 miles, was finally retired from service. All those miles were safe, dependable, comfortable miles for our passengers—amazingly economical and trouble-free miles for us."

Specifications and equipment subject to change without notice.

Depend on it! This great new Dodge will see you thru the long pull ahead!

IN TIMES like these, it pays to own a car you know is engineered through and through to stand up better, serve you longer at lower cost.

That's why we suggest you drive the car whose reputation for dependability . . . for long life, ruggedness and stamina is recognized the world over.

Styled to the minute, extra roomy with wonderful new "watchtower" visibility, more comfortable to ride in, easy to park and handle—this year's great new Dodge is the car to see you through the long pull ahead.

Spend 5 Minutes With Us

Come in today. Five minutes is all it takes to check and compare . . . to learn how much more Dodge dependability can mean to you. We'll be glad to show how you could pay up to $1,000 more for a car and still not get all the extra room, ease of handling and rugged dependability of today's big Dodge.

LONGER BRAKE LIFE! Big Safe-Guard Hydraulic Brakes stop you smoothly, softly, safely. Easier on you. Easier on tires. Cyclebond linings last up to twice as long.

DEFIES ALL WEATHER! Water-tight, dust-tight sealing keeps you snug and dry . . . the engine purring. Body is insulated against heat in summer . . . cold in winter.

Come to Church

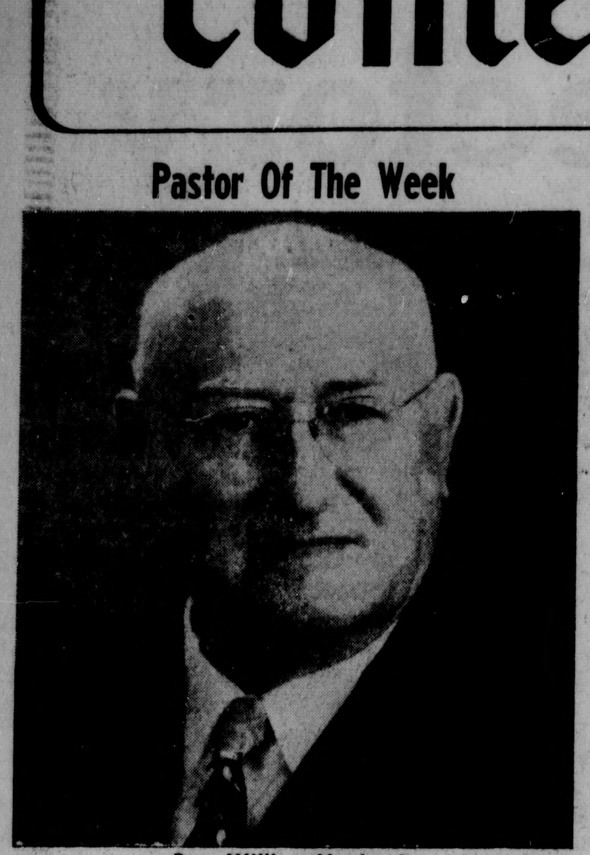
Pastor Of The Week



Rev. William Harberts

Rev. William Harberts, pastor of the Grace Presbyterian church, was born on a farm in Grundy County, Iowa, in a family of seven brothers and two sisters. He is of Dutch-Calvinistic descent.

Rev. Harberts was graduated from Dubuque university in 1908 and from the Seminary in 1911. He received his scholarship from the Board of Christian Education for post graduate work abroad. Traveling through 14 European countries, Rev. Harberts studied one year in the University of Berlin, one in the University of Leipsig and got his PH.D. degree at the University of Erlangen in 1913.

Coming to Daly City January 1, 1944, he has to date received 192 members and officiated at 351 baptisms.

The Grace Presbyterian church was organized in 1908 in the home of Mrs. Janet Turner. Until 1950 it met at the building at 1006 Hanover street, but on November 17 of that year it moved into the new sanctuary at the corner of Crocker and Winchester streets.

The new Grace church property is valued at $75,000 and is the first unit of three buildings. The educational building facing Winchester and a chapel on Crocker will be built as soon as possible.

Officers of the church are as follows:

The Session: Elders—Tom Swan, James Dowell, Stanford Hannah, Raymond Ward, Harry Miller, Stephen Holcomb.

Board of Trustees: A. Stierl, William Patton, William Tams, William C. Hassett, Chester Tyner, Herbert King, Henry Adami.

Board of Deaconesses: Mesdames Alice Nagle, Bernice Hannah, Bertha Kesler, Hazel Dowell, Elizabeth Bright, Lulu McFadden.

Church Treasurer: Joseph Swan.

Financial Secretary: Mrs. E. Hanson.

Director of Religious Education: Mrs. William Harberts.

SERMONETTE OF THE WEEK

THE FACT OF THE RESURRECTION

By

Rev. William Harberts, Ph.D.

Grace Presbyterian Church

The Fact Of The Resurrection!

Unfortunately the nations of the world, and the peoples of the various nations of the world, are again, as down the corridors of history rather hopelessly divided on relatively secondary matters, i. e. material things and political issues; but fortunately on really vital, spiritual and transmundane matters, and facts in ecclesiastical history, such as the fact of the resurrection, all Christendom thruout the world is solidly united.

As to the timelyness of the Easter season, of which Easter Sunday is the crowning day, upon which Christians commemorate the resurrection of the Risen Lord. We in this temperate zone are most fortunate. As, thru the resurrection the dead Christ came to life again, so, all nature too springs forth into new life. Ordinary trees send forth new foliage, fruit trees, buds and blossoms, meadows turn green, hibernating animals awaken, migratory birds wen their way northward and tillers of the soil return to their fields.

THE INEFFECTIVENESS OF NON-CHRISTIAN RELIGIONS

Because non-Christian religions were based on belief, at times, in mystical or imaginary gods, who may have had many prophets, but whose prophets went the way of all the world and experienced no resurrection; therefore, after so long a time, disillusioned followers forsook their former beliefs and permitted their religion to die, and with it their respective civilizations, not a few examples of which are found in the orient this very day.

THE EFFECTIVENESS OF THE CHRISTIAN RELIGION

The fact of the resurrection is one of the fundamental doctrines of the Christian church. Hence at Easter time we sing "He lives and I too, shall live."

Because of faith in the resurrection of Christ, Christians are inspired to carry on, as it were, to work out their salvation, and even if with fear and trembling at times, sincerely believing that death does not end it all; as in secular verse we read: "Dust thou art, to dust returnest was not spoken of the Soul;" and as the Christ himself said: "I am the resurrection and the life, he that believeth in me tho he were dead yet shall he live."

Enrollment Off In Colleges

MARCH 29. (CNS)—The Korean War and withdrawal of many veterans who have completed courses was blamed today by the state department of education for a drop in student enrollments at state and private collegiate institutions.

The department has completed a survey which showed 165,056 college students enrolled at the start of the present school year as compared to 182,325 on a corresponding date the previous year.

State universities lost 3,934, state colleges 118, public junior colleges 8,398, private junior colleges 134, and private four-year institutions 4,920.

Heaviest loss was at Chico State College which registered a drop of 1,134 students. University of California and its various campuses suffered a loss of 3,934.

Among the private universities, the University of Southern California registered a drop in enrollment totaling 1,152.

In public junior colleges, Long Beach lost almost 50 per cent of its enrollment, having only 3,599 students registered this year as compared to 7,398 the year before.

School losses, the department said, have been mostly due to students joining the military services or entering defense plants.

Another factor is the big decline in veterans attending classes. School authorities estimated that there would be 92,650 veterans enrolled this year while actually only 42,235 have resumed their studies.

State Gas Tax Revenue Shows 12% Increase

MARCH 29. (CNS)—Net revenue from the state gasoline tax for January totaled $11,403,541, the State Board of Equalization announced here today. The revenue was 12.8 per cent above the same month a year ago.

The board said fiscal year net revenues through January, accounting for seven months, totaled $85,313,639, an increase of 7.3 per cent over the previous year.

School Board Members Expenses Assured

MARCH 29. (CNS) — The Assembly today passed and sent to the Senate a bill permitting school boards of any California school district to pay the traveling expenses of representatives of the board when on school business in other cities.

The bill amends an earlier law which permitted school boards to pay such traveling expense, provided the district employed 30 or more teachers, but denied the same right to smaller schools.

State Price Index Up 3% Last Month

MARCH 29. (CNS)—The All-Commodities Price Index maintained by the State Purchasing Division for February Jumped three per cent over the previous month, according to a report made today to Governor Earl Warren.

The division said that while a slight decrease, two-tenths of a per cent, in wholesale prices was noted in February for the first time in four months, that prices were 16.6 per cent higher than the average before the outbreak of the war in Korea.

Food jobbers throughout the state, the division reported, are increasing inventories because of the threat of price controls.

78% Jump In Liquor Tax Revenue Noted

MARCH 29. (CNS) — February collections of the state liquor tax totaled $1,948,385, a 78 per cent increase over the same month a year ago, the State board of equalization announced here today.

The board said more than two million gallons of distilled spirits moved in retail channels during the month, making sales higher than in any prior February in history.

Measles Reach Epidemic Stage

MARCH 29. (CNS) — Measles and chickenpox continued in the epidemic stage in California during the week ending March 10, the State Department of Health reported today, and topped all other communicable diseases.

The department said there were 2,309 cases of measles, 132 of German measles, and 1,370 of chickenpox during the week. Cases of mumps declined to 474, but influenza rose to 432 cases during the same period.

Infantile paralysis showed a small drop, there being 18 cases in comparison to 25 the preceding week. Los Angeles county recorded seven, San Mateo County five, and Alameda and San Diego counties two each. Santa Cruz and Santa Barbara county reported one case each.

Congressional District Asked

MARCH 29. (CNS)—San Mateo county would constitute the ninth congressional district under a bill proposed by Assemblyman Laughlin E. Waters, chairman of the elections and reapportionment committee.

At the present time, San Mateo county, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, and San Benito counties constitute one congressional district, the eighth.

Don't Forget State Income Tax

Thomas H. Kuchel, chairman of the Franchise Tax Board advises Bay Area taxpayers to file state returns early.

The State Income Tax Offices at 540 Van Ness Ave., San Francisco and 2129 Grove street, Oakland, will be open every day from 8:15 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. and on Saturdays to 12:00 noon, to advise and assist taxpayers regarding the preparation of state returns.

Single persons with net incomes of more than $2,000 and married persons with combined net incomes of $3,500 or more are required to file state returns.

File early and avoid the last minute delays.

Cycle Races Slated March 29

Three of the World's foremost short track riders have entered the Class A Indoor Motorcylce Races billed at Cow Palace March 29 through 31.

Wilbur Lamoreaux, Glendale, and Pasadena's noted Milne brother team—Jack and Cordy signed for the three-night event scheduled for its national indoor debut here. Charles Ashton Curryer, president of the American Racing Association, announced that the trio would head a battery of bike jockeys, who will vie for titular laurels in the finals.

The trio holds 12 world marks set on British tracks ranging from an eighth to a quarter of a mile.

Lamoreaux established records at Glasgow, Scotland; Wimbledon, Wimbley and West Ham, England. His international mark for 4 laps at the West Ham quarter mile track stands at 56.20 seconds.

Jack Milne boasts records at Bristol, England, and Sidney, Australia, and Cordy Milne has record runs at Southhampton, and Dublin, Ireland.

Twenty events are booked on each program and the races will start each night at 8:13 under sanction of AMA.

Advertising Week Proclaimed Here

MARCH 29. (CNS)—Proclamation of March 25-31 as "Advertising Recognition Week" was issued by Governor Earl Warren here today.

The Governor's proclamation said:

"Advertising is something that we take so much for granted in this modern day that we sometimes fail to recognize the part it has played in the development of the American economy. Advertising by creating consumer demand, has made possible our system of mass production, with its benefits of national distribution, uniformity of product, low costs and high wages.

"It has helped to insure the maintenance of the free press and free radio that have kept Americans better informed than the people of any other nation in the world.

"We in California have particular reason to appreciate the tremendous power of advertising, for it has been through advertising that mililons of people have learned of our state and the advantages of its climate, its resources and its facilities. Without advertising, the nationwide and world-wide merchandising of many of our famed products would not have been possible, and California's great growth and development of the past 100 years could not have been achieved."

SPARE THE OLD SPARE

Spare tires often are those that already have seen considerable service and are occupying their present position only as substitutes when one of the good tires meets misfortune, points out the National Automobile Club. Yet, it frequently happens that when the spare is called upon to fill in, its tenure on the wheel is much longer than the owner anticipated. The spare, thus used, may be good for a few hundred miles. It is better to take these out in small instalments than all at one time. When the good tire is fixed, put it back without delap. It spares the old spare.

Home Appliance News

Streamlined Design, Storage ana Step-saving Features Rate High

By NANCY COOK—ANS

In answer to the housewives' need for less bulk and more efficiency in home cleaning appliances, the new vacuum cleaners have reached a peak in improvements and refinements.

One model, which goes far in solving limited closet space problems of modern homes, is styled by Raymond Loewy Associates, leading industrial designers, for the Singer Sewing Machine Company. It can be hung on a wall in the smallest closet and takes up no floor space. The lowness of this light-weight cleaner (only five inches from floor to top of motor housing) makes it possible to clean under low pieces of furniture without moving them.

Another labor-saving feature, is the machine's cord control which, at the touch of a button winds up cord, saves bending and straightening usually necessary when cord is wound or unwound. This cord control also does away with endless switching motions needed to get slack cord out of way of the cleaner.

Other exclusive features eliminate manual adjustment of revolving brush to rug thickness; and a midway carrying handle enables the homemaker to carry machine so weight is properly balanced.

Can be hung on smallest broom closet wall.

Cord reels inside of machine automatically.

"Fountain-pen height" permits cleaning under low pieces of furniture.

Vet's Discharge Papers Important

The tremendous importance of a military discharge certificate to the ex-serviceman has once more been underlined, according to Floyd D. Granger, Veterans Service Officer, this time by the preference accorded to veterans in defense industry and Government employment.

"Every veteran in San Mateo County should have his original discharge certificate in a safe place, and should know where that place is, "Granger said. "In addition, he should have had it recorded by the County Recorder, and he should have had at least one photostatic copy of it made. Failure to take any one of these steps may some day result in inconvenience, at the very least, and serious delays, at the worst, for the veteran and his family."

Reports from centers of defense industry expansion indicate that many veterans are applying for employment without having proof of their veteran status, Granger added. Some of these veterans are consequently discovering that they have lost their discharge certificate.

If a discharge is lost, a certificate in Lieu of Lost Discharge can be obtained, although the process requires a little time, according to Granger. This Certificate in Lieu of Lost Discharge will be as effective as the original in many situations, but not all.

There is no charge for recording of a discharge certificate. It may be brought to the County Recorders Office, Courthouse, Redwood City, for this purpose at any time.

Chrysler To Set Pace In Race At Indianapolis

For the fourth time in a quarter-century a Chrysler has been chosen to set the pace this year for the start of the 500-Mile Automobile Race to be held on Memorial Day, May 30, over the famous brick and asphalt course at Indianapolis.

The Chrysler is now on display at Timossi Motors, 6888 Mission Street.

D. A. Wallace, president of Chrysler Division of Chrysler Corporation, will be at the wheel of the New Yorker Model that has been chosen for the task of shepherding the mightiest fleet of racing cars ever assembled as it roars around the historic 2½ mile raceway at the start of the marathon.

The Chrysler, equipped with the new V-8 "FirePower" engine that was unveiled only this year as the monst powerful motor (180 hp) in any American passenger car, also will carry Wilbur Shaw, three-time winner of the racing classic and now president and general manager of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, who will assist in keeping the impatient speedsters in an orderly procession as they approach the starting line at more than 100 miles an hour.

Actually, because of the wartime cancellations of the race in '42, '43, '44 and '45, this will mark the fourth time in twenty-one races that the track management has conferred the honor and its high responsibility on a Chrysler. In 1926, when Chrysler Corporation was a three-year old industrial infant, the honor came for the first time. It was repeated in 1933 and again in 1941. Each time the Chrysler got the field away to a faultless start.

The task performed by the earlier Chryslers, however, pales in contrast to the ticklish job assigned this year's model. Mr. Shaw, in announcing the selection, said that early indications this year were that the slowest car in the race would have to have a qualifying speed of at least 133 mph.

Advance ticket sales and hotel reservations for the 1951 race are the greatest in the history of the event, Speedway officials report, indicating that a crowd of more than 150,000 will witness the grind.

Alfalfa can be cut four to seven times a year in some sections of Arizona.

BALANCING FUEL RATION

Car owners might well take a tip from the engineer in his design of the later cars, points out the National Automobile Club. The greatest effort has gone into seeing that the engine gets a carefully balanced ration of fuel at al lspeeds. The fine balance originally attained, however, cannot be retained unless attention is paid regularly to the cleanliness, tightnes, and proper adjustment of the entire fuel system.

73 County Men Face Induction

MARC 29. (CNS)—State Selective Service today announced it has been called upon to deliver 4,990 men to the induction station at Fort Ord during the month of April.

To meet the call, Col. K. H. Leitch anounced, 6,001 men will be requisitioned for induction into the army.

Of the total called, 73 will be from San Mateo County.

Leitch said the requisition of 6,001 men represents an 'overcall of aproximately 22 per cent.

"It is expected," he said, "that this percentage of full-time university and college students will request that their inductions be postponed until the end of their academic year.

BEAUTY News & Views

By TONI WOODWARD—ANS

FEMININE HABITS are not always considered a virtue—but here's a hand-me-down habit from the "Beauty Book" of a wise grandma which is well worth passing along. "Always prepare for an unexpected meeting with the Sunday beau or a chance meeting with that new man coming into your life —and never step outside the door without being perfectly groomed." In grandma's day grooming was a production yet today, with nail lacquers in high repute there's an extra item to check. "Unpardonable," she would say, "is the fast patch-up job which is supposed to cover a multitude of sins and never does"—followed by our faint cries of "time, time?" Today she would have that answer too, for the latest news along beauty row comes from Dura-Gloss chemists who, after extensive tests, have created a new Perfumed Creamy Polish Remover that takes only seconds to use and "furthermore" say they, "it practically gives you a manicure at the same time for it contains Thixotro which actually conditions cuticle, keeps it soft, pliable and helps protect it from harsh irritants." They recommend three short steps . . . "Moisten a tiny ball of cotton with the Creamy Polish Remover, press it firmly on the nail, wait a moment and then lift off the cotton. With it comes the old polish, neatly, completely, without any trace around the cuticle." It's scented too (same as Dura-Gloss Nail Lacquer) so there's no unpleasant lingering odour. We're certain that Grandma would feel that she had been born "twenty years too soon" were she to compare today's five and ten beauty counters with those in her day . . . and probably add a convincing line to her "proverb" about poor grooming being down right laziness when good grooming could be acquired so rapidly and inexpensively these days.

WATCH OUT FOR CHILDREN

Drive with special care whenever you are in the vicinity of busy playgrounds, schools where children are out to recess or on their way home, or residential districts where children are playing along the way, advises the National Automobile Club. Whenever and wherever children are at play, "play it safe."

75th Anniversary Of Telephone Observed

The seventy-fifth anniversary of the invention of the telephone is being observed this month throughout the Bell System.

It was on the evening of March 10, 1876 that Alexander Graham Bell first transmitted speech by wire. In recounting this historic moment, Roy N. Buell, Division manager of the telephone company, said:

"In a top floor bedroom in a boarding house in Boston Bell was talking on a new liquid telephone transmitter. It was connected by a wire to a receiver in another room down the hall. At the receiver was Thomas Watson, Bell's assistant. While Bell had earlier proved that speech sounds could be transmitted electrically, his first telephone had not been able to carry an intelligible sentence.

"Suddenly Bell overturned a battery, spilling acid on his clothes. Impulsively he called out, 'Mr. Watson, come here—I want you.' Watson dashed in, saying, 'Mr. Bell, I heard every word you said—distinctly.'"

The 446,450 telephones in service today in San Francisco, Buell continued, is living proof of the usefulness of this new means of communication that Bell gave the world.

Within the short span of only two years after its invention, telephone exchanges with switchboards for interconnecting telephones were in service in two cities separated by the continent; the first, founded in New Haven, Connecticut on January 28, 1878, led by only 20 days the establishment of the second in San Francisco on February 7, 1878.

San Francisco today has more telephones per 100 persons (54.5) than any other city in the world excepting Washington, D.C. (58.8).

In the early 1920's so many telephone operators were needed to handle the ever-increasing traffic it was obvious there soon wouldn't be enough qualified women to operate the growing number of switchboards. Dial equipment was then introduced and today three out of four telephones are dial. Yet there are far more operators now than there were back in 1922.

Now more than 150 million miles of telephone wire link 43 million American telephones with each other and with 23 million more in other parts of the world. Americans talk by telephone an average of 175 million times a day—with calls from houses, offices, automobiles, trains, yachts and ships at sea.

During the last five years the Bell System added more telephones to its network than it did in its entire first half centutry. To expand service in this way the Bell System spent, during the last five years, almost $5½ billion for telephone plant construction. On the Pacific Coast about $900 million has been spent for new plant since the war. Most of this money has come from the savings of hundreds of thousands of people who invested them in Bell System securities, making possible this vast expansion and improvement of service.

A gold nugget weighing 54 pounds and 50 pennyweights fine was found near Magalia, in Butte County, in early days.

Texas Taters

If you are on the lookout for an idea which will put a little "give" in the food dollar try Texas Taters.

Instead of serving potatoes as a meat accompaniment for dinner star them as the main dish dressed up as Texas Taters. This potato innovation is designed to stretch a quarter-pound of ground beef into six servings. Scooped-out potato pulp is whipped together with milk and fortified margarine to a smooth, rich fluffy mixture. Hot browned beef, drippings, grated sharp cheese and seasonings are folded in to finish off the tasty filling for the potato shells.

Glazed tiny golden carrots, a simple tossed salad, crisp crusted rolls served with margarine for spreading complete a dinner course that is bound to cut corners on your food costs.

TEXAS TATERS

6 medium-sized potatoes
6 tablespoons fortified margarine
1 cup milk
1 cup grated sharp cheese
2 tablespoons minced onion
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon minced parsley
½ cup minced celery

Hot browned ground beef and drippings: Melt 2 tablespoons fortified margarine in a skillet over low heat. Add ¼ pound ground beef, season to taste with salt and pepper and cook until done. Stir occasionally.

Cut a thin slice off the flat side of the potato. With a spoon remove as much as you can of the potato without breaking the skin. Mash the pulp. Add margarine, milk, cheese, onion, salt, pepper, parsley, celery, browned beef and drippings. Fill potato shells with the mixture. Place ½ teaspoon fortified margarine on top of each filled potato. Place the Texas Taters on a broiler rack and broil 4 inches from the source of heat until the tops are delicately browned, about 5 to 7 minutes. Yield: 6 servings.

Male Cancer Toll Poses Challenge

Cancer in men presents one of the greatest challenges to medicine and research. This year about 100,000 men will be destroyed by this disease. Many thousands of them—perhaps one-third — could and should be saved by early diagnosis and prompt treatment.

The chief problem in controlling cancer in men is that most of the cancers occur in the stomach, intestines and the lungs; these internal cancers are difficult to discover early since their first symptoms are often so slight that they are ignored. The best defense against cancer is a periodic complete medical checkup.

Clinical research has developed notable diagnostic aids in recent years. Improved x-rays, a variety of periscope-like instruments which enable a physician to study internal organs, techniques for obtaining smears of cancer cells that drop off into body cavities are making possible more early diagnosis.

Your dollars help guard your family. Strike back! Give to conquer cancer.

State Operating In The Black

MARCH 29. (CNS)—California's general fund has operated "in the black" during the first eight months of the present fiscal year, State Controller Thomas H. Kuchel announced today.

Kuchel said revenues for the period totaled $414,274,579, while expenditures amounted to $382,000,481.

A cash excess in the general fund of $66 million at the close of business Feb. 28 was reported by Kuchel. He also stated that the revenues were up 19 per cent over the same period a year ago, and that expenditures for the first eight months of this year were only 2½ per cent higher.

The rate of sales tax revenue to the state treasury is approximately $36 million a month, as an average for the first eight months of this year.

HIGH SPEEDS AND OLD CARS

High speeds and old cars go ill together, warns the National Automobile Club. Many cars and tires on the road today have seen long years of service and motorists should remember that defects developed through these long years can mean sudden death at high speeds.

Contestants To Vie For Prizes Sunday By Gulping Down Gallons Of Ice Cream

Just how many quarts of ice cream can one man, woman, or child consume?

That earth shaking question will be answered at a Bay Area ice cream contest to be sponsored by Ice Cream Land, 2159 Junipero Serra Boulevard, Sunday, April 1, between 1 p.m. and 5 p.m.

A partial answer to the problem was forthcoming two weeks ago when 13-year-old LeRoy Berning, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Berning, 903 Foothill Drive, downed 50 scoops of ice cream at one sitting. This amounts to roughly 3 gallons.

Outsiders, who take a dim view of holding any contest on April Fools Day, are quick to point out that the human stomach can't take more than 3 gallons.

"Not so," claims Denny. "We have several gents, and ladies, too, who assert that 50 scoops is only a beginning. They are aiming to down at least 75."

The flavor of the ice cream used is up to the individual gobblers. However, it has been found that when a contestant takes on more than 35 scoops that vanilla is the more pleasing.

"It was nothing," confided Berning today. "I hope to beat my own record again Sunday."

Berning, who weighs in at 176 pounds, will defend his ice cream eating title against 14 contestants of every age, sex, and stomach measurement.

Monsieur Denny, who runs Ice Cream Land, is sponsoring the contest in the interest of medical science, and for the edification of thousands who will pack the establishment Sunday.

Winners in the contest will receive prizes amounting to better than $50.

And to insure that there will be winners, the manager will employ a registered nurse to be on hand to check the contestants from time to time throughout the contest.

Regardless of whether or not you plan to enter the contest, you and your family are invited to take a ring side seat in the battle of ice cream and elastic stomachs this Sunday.

The contest gets underway at 1 p.m. at Ice Cream Land, 2159 Junipero Serra Boulevard.

Easter Seal Drive Continues

The Easter Seal fund-raising effort now being conducted throughout the county by the Crippled Children's Society enters into its final stages during the next two weeks.

Mrs. Richard Heimann, president of the society, reported that since the start of campaign three weeks ago $10,312 has been received at the society's office which is less than one-fourth of this year's campaign goal of $45,000.

The fund-raising drive got underway late last month with the mailing out of over 53,000 letters containing 100 Easter seals to county citizens. Each mailing contained a conveniently self-addressed envelope for contributors to mail in their dollars in payment for the seals. Only about 8,500 donors have sent back their gifts to the society, Mrs. Heimann said.

Mrs. Heimann said that the amount raised so far is only adequate to do about one-third of the job the society has outlined for itself this year. She urged those who have neglected to buy their Easter seals to do so this week.

The majority of the funds derived as a result of the Easter seal drive are used to aid handicapped children in the county.

The society provides care and therapy for youngsters whose parents cannot supply them with the costly treatment necessary for them to regain their health.

Unemployment Claims Down

MARCH 29. (CNS) — Another decrease in unemployment insurance claims for the week ending March 8 was reported by the State Department of Employment here today.

The department said that in the South San Francisco office, 379 claims were filed for insurance, and 301 were paid.

For the state as a whole, 149,907 claims were filed, and 115,524 paid, as compared to 178,560 filed and 139,594 paid the previous week, and 316,935 filed and 255,890 paid for the corresponding week a year ago.

Castelan Named To Demo Group

Julius Castelan of Daly City was named to the general committee for the 1951 Northern California Jefferson-Jackson Dinner, Chairman Thomas C. Lynch announced today.

Lynch, district attorney of San Francisco, said Democrats from 43 Northern California counties are expected to attend the Jefferson-Jackson Dinner on Monday, April 9, at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco.

Jonathan Daniels, nationally prominent author, and editor of the Raleigh, North Carolina, News & Observer and former White House assistant to Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman, will be guest speaker at the annual fund raising affair for Northern California Democrats.

Mr. Daniels is author of the recent best-selling biography of President Truman, "The Man of Independence."

The Jefferson-Jackson dinner is open to guests who contribute $25 or more to the Jefferson-Jackson Committee, 593 Market Street, Room 214, San Francisco.

WE DEFY YOU TO FIND A COLOR WE CAN'T CREATE

HARRY, the magician of color, asks you to come in and watch him mix your paint. You name the color, and Harry goes to work. With a magic wave of his wand (plus a little foot work to a shelf of paint cans). Harry gets the basic ingredients for your color scheme. Muttering a few magic words (Harry does not swear) he puts the can on a wonderful machine . . . it looks likes a ruptured scale. Through the magic of electricity, the machine goes to work to mix the paint right before your eyes. But don't watch the shaking can . . . bad for the eyesight). Again, Harry waves his hand (turns off the switch), and the color you desire is ready. The old magician hands you the paint, but only after he's secured a few dirty dollars, and you step out into the world a wiser man. EDUCATION OF AN EDITOR

by Ridgely Cummings

I'm not on the payroll of the local chamber of commerce but despite this glaring oversight am forced to point out that Hollywood is a fabulous town.

Where else could one watch, for free, Bing Crosby and Judy Garland perform one night and Ruth St. Denis and her troupe of dancers the next?

I very nearly didn't get in to hear Bing and thereby hangs a tale about the education of a resident editor.

It was a Saturday afternoon. The harassed editor was softening the blow of not buying one of my epics by treating me to coffee in a Vine Street restaurant. Across the street in front of the Lux theatre we saw a milling throng, surging back and forth under the ineffectual goads of uniformed page boys.

Get In Line

"Let's go over Henry and get in line," I suggested.

"What for? Do you think I'm a moron?"

"Those people aren't morons. They're going to see a slice of Americana."

"Only a moron would stand in line and get pushed around," the editor declared.

"You're missing out on one of the simple and inexpensive pleasures of Hollywood life if you haven't hit the broadcast lines," I said. "Come on."

Gently I propelled Henry across the street, he meanwhile protesting that in all his years in the town he had never yet sunk so low as to join the herds seeking free entertainment. I promised him if he could forget his dignity he would get the first installment of a liberal education.

Magic Key

"If you really want to see this thing I'll get you in on my press pass," said Henry. "Follow me."

"Okay old boy, but it won't work. I've got a press pass too."

Henry shouldered a path through the crowd and I followed him up to the door and stood grinning while he produced credentials and argued in vain with the guard.

"We issue special passes for each show and don't honor anything him.

else," the polite watchman told Henry protested wrathfully and a crowd gathered. I took his arm and said soothingly, "Come on, Henry, here's the 'no-ticket' line. We'll get in anyway."

"Let me go!" Henry struggeld to release himself. "I won't stand in any blank blank line."

Plenty of Room

The crowd laughed and in spite of himself Henry broke into an unintentional smile. A woman standing in front of us assured Henry there would be plenty of room. From past experience she could look at the lines and estimate her chances, she explained.

Once Henry relaxed he started enjoying himself. There was a gay camaraderie among those lined up. People from Maine to Texas told strangers about their home towns and started friendly little conversations.

First the tickets holders went in. Then the line of service men without tickets entered. Then some more late-comers with tickets. Then more service men. Finally Henry and I and others in the no-ticket line were admitted just before the doors closed.

We were seated high in the balcony. Thus with a sky-scraper view of Bing Crosby's dome I am able to report that he is practically bald. He looked thin after his recent operation and there was a special seat for him on the stage.

Good Voice

But once he rose to take the microphone it was apparent that he had lost none of the old Crosby magic. His voice was mellow and resonant and he and Miss Garland cut some amusing capers that weren't in the script, much to the enjoyment of the packed house.

Judy Garland was a little thing, dressed in black. She seemed a trifle nervous as she stood with legs wide apart waiting for her orchestra cue.

Once it came she put her heart and voce into her song. When she sang the title line—"When you're smiling the whole world smiles with you"—it was obvious that she had won the audience. Many of them were no doubt sharing my own thought that it took genuine courage for her to sing such a song after all she's been through.

Later she and Bing and a cowboy singer-comedian named Jack Pepper did a western skit in which Judy played the role of "Bounce-along Garland" and did some pleasant harmonizing with the old maestro.

Story Chance

When we were filing out Henry said he forgave me. As tangible evidence of his enjoyment he asked me to give him back the manuscript he had just rejected.

"I'll try to work your story into the May issue," he said. "We should be rid of our backlog by then."

If he does maybe I'll send Miss Garland a percentage of the check. I said maybe now.

About Ruth St. Denis. My prospective editor, Henry, has used up most of my space so all I can say is it was a privilege to see dance someone I've been reading about for years. Though over 70 she is still beautiful in a slender, delicate way.

Her hair is a pure white aureole. She wore a cream robe girdled with a silver belt and most part left the stage clear for danced two numbers but for the the young students of interpretative dancing that she has gathered about her.

Bing drew a packed theatre while Miss St. Denis attracted only a half-capacity house. Probably there is a moral here but don't misunderstand me. I still like Hollywood.

Teachers Association Oppose Bible Reading

MARCH 29. (CNS) — Perfunctory reading of the Bible in California schools would decrease, rather than increase respect for the book, the California Teachers Association said today in announcing its opposition to a bill before the Assembly for compulsory reading in classrooms.
